Fall – Winter 2020

— New Arrivals

As a vivid traveler, I can't help but dream about all the unexplored places around the Mediterranean. Traveling has always been an inspiring odyssey of discovery and growth, core philosophies of Octaevo. On every journey, we enrich our senses with new flavours and ideas, infusing them into our products.

While I mostly stayed in Barcelona this year, wandering the quiet streets have taught me an important lesson; one can have meaningful moments of discovery while also staying local. The best journeys are always measured in moments, not in miles.

I often browse these days through my notebooks, collected objects and drawings from previous trips. They transport me immediately to that busy bazaar in Tangier or that exciting sailing trip with friends around the Balearic Islands. A famous quote says that a good traveller is one who knows to travel with his mind. I couldn't agree more.

Considering all these notions, the new collection celebrates travel without traveling. From sending a greeting card to a loved one across the globe, or simply letting your thoughts wander while lighting our locally made candles, our new products are all about bringing a bit of inspirational comfort to you.

SHINE BRIGHT

TEMPLO CANDLE SCULPTURES

These artisanal candles are inspired by imaginary objects from the altars of ancient mythology. The transient nature of the hand poured wax combined with the relic sculpture create an art piece that melts as a performance, transforming slowly over time.

The eclectic palette of shapes in soft colours make a statement of their own. Cluster them together to form a chic ensemble on your dining room table or mantle.
Your home is a temple.

JAIME HAYON COLLABORATION

We are excited to present our latest collaboration with internationally renowned and award-winning Spanish designer Jaime Hayon.

Adorned with Hayon's characteristic line illustrations, the paper vases come in our signature shades white and blue with bold strokes in gold. As we always find great inspiration in ancient mythology, Hayon's face drawings match perfectly with our obsession with Greek and Roman gods. The result is a superb symbiosis of both traditions.

Size: 265 x 290 mm

Material: Water resistant paper

Print: Offset with gold foil stamping

Embellishment: Laminated and sewn by hand
